Plagiarism

- The act of presenting someone else's ideas or work as your own, with or without that person's consent, by incorporating it into your work without giving it due credit, is known as plagiarism.
 - All works, published and unpublished, whether in manuscript, printed, or electronic form
 - No form of plagiarism is allowed in any of the assessments

APA Style and its Necessity

- APA is one among the many different styles of citation which is used by the American Psychological Association.

YOU HAVE TO FOLLOW APA IN YOUR WRITINGS, FOLLOWED BY GENED

- Easy to use
 - Makes papers clearer (Knoll, 2012)
 - Gives credit to the original source (Knoll, 2012)

Basic Etiquettes of Academic Writing

- The reference list is added at the end of any academic paper
 - It is a list of all the sources used in your paper
 - The reference list MUST be in alphabetical order
 - The reference list have to be properly Indented (Hanging Indent)
 - References should be in font Times New Roman and Size 12 lines must be double spaced.
 - Reference list (Work Cited) should start from a NEW page and NOT where the essay ended.
 - Using any information from Wikipedia is STRONGLY discouraged.
- *You do not need to give serial numbers to the list i.e. 1., 2.'...

Basics of APA

- In-text Citation
- Reference List

In-Text Citation

- Citing sources within your narration.
- (Last name of the author, year of publication)

Direct Quotation- author last name, year, p.number (Sarkar, 2022, p.45) /
(Sarkar, 2022, p.45-60)

If there is no page number- author last name, year (Sarkar, 2022)

While citing, please mention the surname/last name of the author only.
Never write the first name of the author.

In-Text Citation

1. Parenthetical In-text citation: In-text citation using brackets. For example: This is just an example (Sarkar, 2022).
2. Narrative citation: In-text citation written in narrative form. For example: Sarkar (2022) described an example of narrative in-text citation.

Example:

Climate change is accelerating the frequency of extreme weather events (Jackson, 2020).

According to Jackson (2020), climate change is accelerating the frequency of extreme weather events.

Paraphrasing

- Paraphrasing is a way of using different words and phrasing to present the same ideas
 - Short passages of text, such as phrases and sentences, are paraphrased which helps to avoid plagiarism
 - The use of a paraphrase gives you an option to avoid using direct quotations and enables you to include supporting information in assignments.

Format for Referencing

General format: One author

Put the last name of the author, author's initials. (Year of publication). Title of the work.
Journal Title, Volume(issue no.), pages.

Example:

Sarkar, P. K. (2022). The future is female. Why you should not be an anti-feminist, 22(2),11-23.

Format for Referencing

Two authors:

- Parenthesis in-text citation: (Last name of author 1 & Last name of author 2, year of publication) e.g: (Sarkar & Anis, 2022)

Note: It is advised to use ampersand “&” instead of “and”

- Narrative in-text citation: Last name of author 1 and last name of author 2 (year of publication) E.g: Sarkar and Anis (2022)

Reference:

Last name of author 1, author 1 initials., & Last name of author 2, author 2 initials.
(Year of publication). Title of the work. Journal Title, Volume(issues), pages.

Example: Sarkar, P.K., & Anis, M.A. (2022). The future is female. why you should not be an anti-feminist, 22(2), 11-23.

Format for Referencing

- In-text citation: Same as the rule for 3-7 authors.
 - Parenthesis in-text citation: (Last name of the first author et al., year of publication) e.g: (Sarkar et al., 2022)
 - Narrative in-text citation: Last name of the first author et al. (year of publication) e.g: Sarkar et al. (2022)

Format for Referencing

Organisation as Author:

This is also known as “Corporate Author”. Here, the name of the organisation is treated as if it is the author's name, and the same rule as the Author's is applicable. However, in this case, the full name of the organisation has to be mentioned, and no initial is required.

● In-text citation:

- Parenthesis in-text citation example: (Yellow Boys organisation, 2022)
- Narrative in-text citation example: Yellow Boys organisation (2022)

Reference: full name of the organisation. (Year of publication). Title of the work.
Journal Title, Volume(issues), pages.

Example: Yellow Boy organisation. (2022). The future is female. Why you should not be an anti-feminist, 22(2), 11-23.
