Semester: Summer 2026

Submission Due Date: June 28th, 2026 11.59 PM

Turnitin: (Class ID: 53689543; Enrollment key-POL101-20)

(Length: 400-500 words; Word File; Times New Roman, 12 pt, 1.5 spacing, left aligned)

Heywood explains politics through two broad lanes: politics as an arena and politics as a process.

Choose one of the following two:

Option A: Politics as Arena (If you choose this option, explain both definitions under this lane)

1. Politics as the art of government
2. Politics as public affairs

Option B: Politics as Process (If you choose this option, explain both definitions under this lane)

1. Politics as compromise and consensus
2. Politics as power

Then answer the following question:

How does your chosen lane from Heywood help define politics? How does Sartori's argument about the boundary and placement of politics refine that definition, and how does one classical thinker from the assigned readings extend the discussion?

I would recommend using the following three assigned sources:

1. Heywood
2. Sartori
3. One classical thinker of your choice
